

MOL India Website- Terms of Use

The user agrees to the following legal conditions without limitation by accessing this website – www.mol-india.com.

MOL India may, at any time and without prior notice, modify these legal terms.

By accessing this website, you agree to accept any modifications made to the legal terms. Please check the terms regularly to stay informed of the latest changes.

- MOL India reserves the right to update or change the information on this website and the services detailed here at any time without prior notice. Users should check the website regularly or contact the local office for the most current information.
- Unless stated otherwise or for press releases, all information, articles, and pictures are copyright protected and cannot be used without MOL India's prior written consent.
- Under no circumstances will MOL India or any third party associated with MOL India be liable for any direct or indirect damages related to or resulting from accessing this website and/or using the information on it.
- MOL India aims to regularly update this service, but makes no representation or warranty, express or implied, regarding the completeness or accuracy of the information it contains.
- By sharing information on this website, you consent to it being provided to interested parties for sales purposes only. MOL India is not liable for any direct or indirect damages resulting from unauthorized transfer of information to third parties or unauthorized third party access to this information. MOL India is also not responsible for any inaccurate or confidential information given through this service.
- All data, comments, and suggestions that users contribute to the MOL India website become the property of MOL India. MOL India may use this user content without restriction within the scope of the MOL India Group's activities. This user content will not be treated as confidential.
- For any questions related to data collection and processing, please refer to our Privacy Policy
- In no case or no event, shall MOL India, its subsidiaries, affiliates, partners, agents, representatives, and any person involved in the elaboration of this website, be liable for any decision made or action taken after consulting this website, or for any direct or indirect loss, including but not limited to sales, loss of profit or information, incurred from accessing this website and/or acting on the information contained therein.
- MOL India will not be held liable for any harm inflicted upon your device due to the presence of a computer virus. Moreover, MOL India shall not assume any responsibility for any damage resulting from unauthorized access by a third party to the information, data, or access code contained within this website.
- Access to password protected areas on this website is strictly limited to authorized individuals. Any unauthorized person who attempts to gain entry to these areas will face legal consequences.
- This website is protected by India law. Any dispute arising in relation to its use will take place within the jurisdiction of India.